GAME NOTES

4.28.18 // 7:30 P.M. // WELLS FARGO CENTER
GAME #2 // AWAY GAME #2

The Valor return to action this Saturday, April 28, taking on the defending-champion Soul at 7:30 p.m. at Wells Fargo Center in Philly. The Valor are coming off a bye week while the Soul sit atop the league standings after a Week 2 win over the Brigade.

VALOR PLAYER TO WATCH: QB Nick Davila - The three-time AFL veteran made his presence known in his Week 1 Valor debut, accounting for seven TDs (six passing, one rushing) against Baltimore. Davila completed 66.7% of his passes, including a trio of TDs to wide receiver Rod Windsor.

SOUL PLAYER TO WATCH: QB Dan Raudabaugh - Raudabaugh has been a consistent force for the Soul through their first two games of the season, completing over 70% of his passes and throwing for six TDs in each matchup. Raudabaugh's two primary targets, Darius Prince and Darius Reynolds, have caught nine of his 12 TDs passes this season.

MATCHUP TO WATCH: Soul DB James Romain vs. Valor WR Rod Windsor - Windsor was Davila's favorite target in Week 1, hauling in nine passes for 87 yards and three TDs. The duo has spent their entire career together, dating back to 2010 with the Arizona Rattlers. Tasked with slowing down Windsor will be the AFL's Week 2 Defensive Player of the Week, James Romain, who has tallied 5.5 total tackles, two pass break-ups and an interception this season.

BROADCAST INFORMATION: Saturday night's matchup will be broadcast nationally on CBS Sports Network.

DAVILA'S DEBUT

In his first game after a year of coaching the Arizona Rattlers, three-time AFL MVP Nick Davila totaled seven touchdowns and nearly 200 yards passing against the Brigade.

JUST LIKE OLD TIMES

Valor wide receiver Rod Windsor has sent each season of his career alongside Davila. After this off-season's reunion, the two picked up where they left off. Windsor led Washington in receptions, receiving yards and receiving touchdowns in the team's Week 1 matchup in Baltimore.

PERFECT PAT

Valor kick Pat Clarke converted on all eight of his PAT attempts. His eight extra points made are the most in the AFL without a miss.

VALOR DROP SEASON OPENER, 61-56, IN BALTIMORE

Davila accounts for seven touchdowns in first game with Washington

BALTIMORE, MD – The Washington Valor (0-1) fell to the Baltimore Brigade (1-0), 61-56, at Royal Farms Arena in Baltimore, Md. in the first game of the 2018 Arena Football League season. Valor quarterback Nick Davila, playing in his first game with the team, was named Offensive Player of the Game for his seven-touchdown performance.

"It's fun to play for the Valor, to represent the red white and blue, to represent my team, represent my family," Davila said. "What more can you want? I was having fun out there but, ultimately, it's better when you win."

Baltimore got on the board first when quarterback Randy Hippeard, the AFL MVP in 2017, connected with wide receiver Kendrick Ings for the game's first score, giving the Brigade a 7-0 advantage. Minutes later, Hippeard notched his first rushing touchdown of the season and gave the Brigade a two-score lead early in the first quarter. Davila found wide receiver Chris Duvalt for Washington's first score of the season late in the opening quarter. Another Hippeard passing touchdown, this time to Brandon Thompkins, who is playing in his second season with the Brigade, gave Baltimore a 20-7 lead after the first quarter. Davila tossed his second score of the game to Rod Windsor to bring the game back within one score. Baltimore and Washington traded scores throughout the remainder of second quarter, which ended with another Hippeard rushing touchdown as time expired on the first half, giving the Brigade a 40-28 lead.

Davila started off the second half scoring with a 17-yard rushing touchdown, cutting the Baltimore lead to 40-35. Wide receiver Brandon Collins answered for the Brigade, hauling in another Hippeard touchdown to make the score 47-35. Davila and Hippeard traded passing touchdowns, keeping the game within two scores for the entirety of the fourth quarter. With under one minute remaining, Davila found Windsor for their third scoring connection of the game, setting the final score at 61-56.

NEWS CLIPS

NEW AFL COMMISSIONER RANDALL BOE, A MONUMENTAL EXECUTIVE, OPTIMISTIC ABOUT INNOVATIONS (THE WASHINGTON TIMES)

You've heard that professional football is dying. You've also heard about the leagues, new or reborn, who want to defy that assumption. The XFL, the Alliance of American Football, the Spring League and the Pacific Pro League have all made recent headlines.

As the market grows ever more crowded, the Arena Football League will kick off its 31st season Friday night when two teams owned by Ted Leonsis' Monumental Sports and Entertainment, the Washington Valor and Baltimore Brigade, play in Baltimore.

Randall Boe, Monumental executive vice president and general counsel, was named the league's new commissioner for 2018, and he is not fazed about competition from other football startups. He and the league's executives see an opportunity to "reboot" the league.

"The opportunity to grow the Arena Football League is really very exciting. It's kind of like being in a startup business in a lot of ways," Boe, 55, told The Washington Times. "Fans get excited, it's very engaging, it's fast-paced, so it just seemed like an exciting opportunity at a good moment in time."

The AFL was in danger of folding last month when negotiations for a new collective bargaining agreement weren't going well. Ivan Soto led the players' union and Boe, before being officially announced as commissioner March 27, headed the league's efforts.

"Like every negotiation, there were some ups and downs, and we certainly took it to the last possible minute before reaching a deal, which is typically what happens in any deal," Boe said.

The new CBA includes a 40 percent increase in player compensation and addition of health-care coverage, according to Boe.

"Our goal is to have the highest quality football out there on the field, and you can't do that if you don't fairly compensate your players," he said.

Originally from Iowa City, Iowa, Boe graduated law school at the University of Pennsylvania and went into private practice in Washington. He joined America Online in 1996 and served as its executive vice president and general counsel for 11 years, leading cases during the internet's formative years.

He joined Lincoln Holdings in 2008, before it became Monumental Sports and Entertainment via merger – and long before being a commissioner of a football league was imaginable. He remembers the early days of the AFL with fondness, watching some games during the era of the Orlando Predators' dominance and thinking it was a "pretty novel and exciting version of football."

Now that he is the Roger Goodell of the AFL, don't think Boe will be flustered at the possibly thankless task ahead.

"I remember how fans used to boo David Stern at the NBA Draft every year. I just think that's part of fun," Boe said. "The funny thing about sports, part of being a fan is being critical of the leagues and the teams and the way they're run. ... That passion tells you how engaged the fans are and how knowledgeable they are and how much they pay attention."

Boe said there was no formal search for a new commissioner to replace Scott Butera, who left the post after four years. Nor does Boe have a formal contract of determined length for the position. Everyone's focus, he said, is to put on a great season of football and start growing the league again.

The AFL has had as many as 19 teams, but by 2017 the number dwindled down to five. Of those, the Cleveland Gladiators and Tampa Bay Storm suspended operations, but could return in the future. Despite the contraction, an expansion team – the Albany Empire – will debut in 2018 and join the Valor, Brigade and Philadelphia Soul. Boe thinks the league will add new teams in the Eastern U.S. before expanding west again.

Why should audiences choose to watch the AFL over the XFL, the AAF or the next string of letters to come along? Boe believes the AFL's product is different – a faster-paced, higher-scoring brand of football, in a league not primarily meant to develop players for the NFL like others do.

And the league's strategy promises innovation. Cameras in players' helmets are being considered, and in a recently announced partnership, DraftKings will stream AFL games on its app and add AFL fantasy sports contests starting in 2019.

"Everyone is looking around the corner at the advent of legalized sports betting on a much wider basis in this country than has existed in the past," Boe said. "We can foresee the day when you'll be watching the game ... and being able to place wagers, proposition bets, on the next play, on different players."

Depending on what else Boe and league leadership foresee and choose to do, they could be poised to turn the AFL around.

Arena Football League Announces Fan Engagement, Betting Partnerships (SportTechie)

In advance of the start of its 31st season tomorrow, the Arena Football League (AFL) has announced four new partnerships, nearly all of which relate to enhancing fan engagement via daily fantasy sports and sports betting.

"The partnerships we're announcing today give fans a whole new range of ways to get in on the action of arena football," said Ron Jaworski, Chairman of the AFL Executive Committee in a statement. "Today, we're bringing fans even closer to the game by giving them access to more data, creating more intensity in each individual moment of the game and introducing some cutting-edge gaming options."

Here's what you need to know:

-DraftKings will be the league's exclusive daily fantasy partner, launching an AFL fantasy game and streaming AFL games via the DraftKings app beginning with the 2019 season.

-Sportradar will develop a new API which will help in the distribution and licensing of data to potential AFL partners.

-Facebook will air 12 AFL games on Facebook Watch. It's not clear from the release whether this will start with the 2018 or 2019 season.

-Vegas Stats and Information Network (VSiN) will produce pregame content that previews betting odds and trends and live content focused on in-game betting angles.

SportTechie Takeaway:

Ted Leonsis, owner of the NBA's Washington Wizards, the NHL's Capitals, and the WNBA's Mystics, owns half of the AFL's teams. He's made it a point to help the league find a foot hold. And Leonsis' venture fund, Revolution Growth, has significant investments in both DraftKings and Sportradar.

A decision on the legalization of nationwide sports betting could come from the US Supreme Court as early as next week. We think we know which way the AFL and Leonsis see the court ruling.
